

The Canine Aggression Escalator

Dogs communicate in a variety of ways that they need more space or would like an interaction to stop. By responding to your dog's non-aggressive cues and giving them space while they are at the bottom of the escalator, you can stop them from feeling the need to display aggressive behaviour.

Learn to listen to your dog's more subtle communication cues and avoid the top of the escalator!

